Why not improve your skills while taking a break?

It's possible. Instead of deciding between rewarding your staff for a job well done or giving them the opportunity to improve their performance at work, why not have both?

With Spectrum, we provide you with the opportunity to do just that. We have 1-day, 3-day and 5-day packages that combine executive training seminars in Etiquette, Inter-Cultural Awareness and Communication Skills with sun, fun and culture – all rolled into one!

In this brochure, you can find some general information about these packages to give you an idea of what we can offer. Since we pride ourselves on offering a tailor-made service, a free consultation is provided to ensure that we can create an unforgettable experience for your staff.

Whoever said that you can't mix business with pleasure evidently never heard of us!

The Trainers

Meet the Spectrum trainers. As experts in our respective fields, we have come together to create a synergetic product, linking with, and building on, the content of one another. With over 50 years of professional experience combined, we provide our participants with meaningful content in an interesting and engaging way. This will allow them to immediately apply the skills and techniques they learn and significantly improve their image as well as the way they interact with others.

Why choose Spectrum?

Spectrum Corporate Training is more than just a combination of training and team-building. It is a unique experience that will not only boost your staff's morale and well-being but will bring them back to work with professional skills from the full spectrum of the field of communications, which will benefit your organisation greatly.

All you need to do is get in touch with your specific requirements and budget and we will prepare a tailor-made quote for you free of charge, with a number of options to choose from. Whilst the tuition costs are fixed, other costs for accommodation, cultural, recreational and/or team-building activities will vary.

Whether you want to treat your staff to a luxury experience or prefer to work with a smaller budget, we are certain that we can make you happy.

Our Expertise

Although we are three independent trainers with our own companies and distinct services, we have seen the potential of working together to create a truly holistic product for our clients. On this page, you can find out more about what we can offer in terms of course content and also find out more about our respective companies. You may contact any of us to receive a quote about Spectrum Corporate Training.
